“Optimizing Patient Safety in Dental Office”

Emergencies do occur in dental offices: a survey of 4,000 dentists conducted by Fast and others revealed an incidence of 7.5 emergencies per dentist over a 10-year period. Every dentist should have the basic knowledge to recognize, assess and manage a potentially life-threatening situation until the patient can be transported to a medical facility. Successful patient management relies on understanding the pathophysiologic processes, management protocols, properly trained team members, written office protocols, and updated equipment and drugs.

After this seminar, the participant will be able to:

- Understand basic office equipment and emergency drugs
- Manage common medical emergencies
- Manage common oral surgery emergencies
- Assess risk for patients on Bisphosphonate therapy and implement current management protocols
