Keeping Your Patients Safe: What's New in Infection Control

This Program will help you to learn what is new in the 2003 Guidelines, how to develop a practical and cost effective infection control methodology to safely treat patients infected with bloodborne disease, achieve a “safe workplace” and comply with the most current DCD, ADA. OSHA recommendations.

Dr. Depaola is professor in the Department of Diagnosis Science and Pathology, Dental School, University of Maryland, Baltimore. He received his DDS in 1975, completed a Master's Degree in Oral Biology, is a Diplomat of the American Board of Oral Medicine and the American College of Dentists and has a certificate in Prosthodontics. Dr. Depaola serves as the Executive Director of Biosafety and continuous Quality Improvement at the Dental School, and the Director for dental training for the PA-Mid-Atlantic AIDS Education and training center. He is an International Lecturer and served as a member of the ADA council of scientific affairs from 2002- 2005. He has authored and co-authored over 130 journal articles, book chapters, and abstracts. Over the past 20 years, he has been awarded over 75 research and service grants.
